JESUS TEACHES SINCERITY

LESSON TEXT—Mark 7:1-23. GOLDEN TEXT—Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Obeying God and Our Parents.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Honoring God and Our Parents.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Sincerity in Religion.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Denounces Formalism.

1. The Emptiness of Formal Worship (v. 1-7).

The tendency of the human heart is to depart from the life and to choose the more formal which is calculated to express the life. The traditions and customs adopted by men for the temporary help of the spiritual life frequently are crystallized into laws and made to supersede the laws and institutions of God.

1. The charge against Christ (v. 2). This was that Christ's disciples ate bread with unwashed hands. The charge was not on the basis of physical uncleanness, but their disregard of custom which was to engage in the thorough washing of the hands before eating, as well as washing the pots and vessels.

2. Examples of empty forms (vv. 2-4). (1) Washing of the hands before eating (v. 3). They not only washed their hands often but diligently and intensely.

(2) Washing of cups, tables, pots and brazen vessels. The ceremonial washing applied to the vessels as well as the hands.

3. Explanation demanded by the Pharisees (v. 5). They asked Christ to explain why His disciples ignored the tradition of the elders with reference to ceremonial cleansing.

4. Christ's answer (vv. 6, 7). He declared that worship which centered in forms was as empty and meaningless as was lip service where the heart was away from God. This He calls hypocrisy, even such as foretold by Isaiah, the prophet. Men of his day made much of external observance and of religious rites, while their hearts remained unchanged.

5. Making the Word of God of None Effect (vv. 8-13). 1. How it may be done (v. 8). It was done by punctiliously observing the precepts of man, such as washing of the hands, pots, etc., while ignoring the commandments of God. This is being done by those who make much of the externalities of religion but at the same time are indifferent to the moral requirements.

2. An instance cited (vv. 9-13). The law of God as given by Moses said, "Honor thy father and thy mother, and whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death: but ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, I Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me, he shall be free, and ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother." The law of God demands of children that they care and provide for parents in their need. According to an accepted tradition among the Jews, if a man should consecrate his goods or possessions to the Lord's service by pronouncing over them the word "Corban," which means "the gift," his goods would be thus dedicated to God, and would not be available for help to his parents. It was possible, therefore, for a man to be enjoying wealth while his parents were in destitution.

3. The Real Source of Defilement and Impurity (vv. 14-23). 1. Sin is moral and spiritual. Uncleaness before God is not of the body save as the body is directed by the soul. A man is not defiled by that which enters his mouth but by that which springs out of his heart.

2. That which springs out of the heart—the deliberate choice of the will—is the source of defilement (v. 20). 3. A list of evils springing out of the heart (vv. 21, 22). The awful list is as follows:

Evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, insensuousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness, which all come from within. This catalogue includes every possible form of evil. Every one of them originate in the heart and when they become acts of the will and life they defile the man. It is only when temptations and solicitations lead to indulgence by the deliberate act of the will that they corrupt a man.

Children's Needs

"Children have more need of models than of critics.—Joubert.

Christian Giving

Our Father has so much confidence in us that He makes no hard, arbitrary rule for Christian giving, but leaves it to the filial love and loyalty of His children to determine how much of their possessions they will offer to relieve the pains and sorrows of the world.—J. H. Jowett.

Faith in God

A little faith in a great God is better than a great faith in mortal man.—Methodist Protestant.

GUARD THE TONGUE.—Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile. Depart from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it. Psalm 34, 13-14.

PRAYERS.—Thou knowest, Lord, that the tongue no man can tame. Bring our thoughts in accord with thine, and our tongues will speak only wisdom.

GIVING GETS.—There is that seeth and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty. Proverbs 11: 24.

PRAYER.—O God, Thou didst give us Thy best beloved. May we learn of Thee, and then we shall give as Thou hast given, and grow into the likeness of Thine own image.

A STEP AHEAD IN STOREKEEPING—THE VISION OF TODAY

While we are proud of our new store, we prize most the old friends who have made the new store possible

Correctness in Style ~
Certainty in Value ~
Convenience in Shopping

—makes this store attractive to all

We are of sufficient size to enable us to specialize.

Each of our 38 departments is a store in itself, in charge of specialists who have no other duties than the management of their own departments. They are relieved of the thousand and one details—financial, clerical and otherwise—that enter into storekeeping—so they are able to give their entire time and energy to the particular line of merchandise they sell.

In addition, we have the advantage of our representation at all times in New York and in the great foreign markets. This keeps us in touch with the latest developments in style; with all that is new, desirable and distinctive; to show the new while it is new and to avail ourselves of any unusual values these markets may afford.

We are the largest distributors of merchandise of our character in Northern New England.

As far as the manufacturer is concerned, we occupy the same position in this section of the country as do the big stores in the larger cities. Manufacturers are anxious to place their merchandise where they believe they will get the largest volume of business, so they come to us first as a rule.

This gives us first choice and the opportunity to pick the best in practically every line of merchandise we sell. Often such lines are confined to us exclusively and are not to be found elsewhere in Portland.

Staple merchandise in which style is not a factor, we purchase in quantity in conjunction with other large stores in different sections of the country. This insures to our customers the lowest prices on this merchandise.

In the purchasing of merchandise where that undefinable something called style is of first importance, our experience teaches us that the tastes and ideas of our people are above the average. And we give this first consideration in our purchases of style merchandise.

All of these services to our customers form but a part of the vision of today in storekeeping.

FRYEBURG TOWN MEETING, 1928

March the fifth dawned bright and clear. A chilly atmosphere. Gathered in this Monday morning, sure and fast.

They winds were piercing, biting. I'm almost too numb for writing. I rode down without a jar.

In a Sunday school, "Star" and I'll tell you folks, Walter let her Walter said, "You're not without." Their "Star" "I'm not without." Walter arrived and stepped out of the car. Walter mumbled, "Thanks would starve out, you know it."

When he should have felt immense. A fitting response. To have had the company of town meeting.

In the town hall. Some old crowd. Whistling low or talking loud. Warned the cackles of my heart to greet a host.

Meeting old friends face to face. Watching women folks embrace. (That I'll only say I suspect the store, most.)

Soon, the old familiar knock Of the gravel. Ten o'clock: Town history, my boy, is in the making. Catches parties were still. I'd employ old friend "Doc" Hill.

For restoring order to all undertakings. Once goldwater, tax collector. Is as calm as you'd expect him. Call him clearly for a neighbor's choice.

As a P. P. S. course wouldn't shirk. Still he does admit it's a work. He says so, so I can prudently reject. Buzzell's served us off before.

Keen on parliamentary lore. He'll quickly bring the gavel into play. With alacrity, in case the one to rule the d. Clerk, of course, we first must choose.

Harriet Abbott won't refuse. I hope that she's as satisfied as we. Jerry groans: "This meeting's dry. Waiting till, and so on I."

Can't accept the town reports, as I see. Somehow we accept reports. Without redress, to the courts. To selecting our town fathers, we're proceeding.

Baker's record has been fine. But he fears he must decline. For he feels, a man like him, the count. Needing.

So, of course, it's no surprise. When McDonald's called to rise. Unanimously greeted first assessor. Though friend Smith's level headed. There's one thing his wife has dreamed.

If he puts on his "Star" will distress I. Simeon Gupill, tried and true. Will move up the ladder, too. In honor that he surely is deserving.

Who'll act as third. Let's see. Since they won't consider me. Who else is competent enough for service. Myron Allen won't decline.

And Jim Tarbox is in line. London Andrews, just to make the count longer. But when all the votes are counted. The sum-total has amounted.

To enough to prove that Allen was stronger. Course, for treasurer, Warren must guard our funds, and hold in trust a duty he's performed many times before.

Of town reports, he's the dean. His long service untried, clean. Must prevail him, sure, you're born, man of men.

Miss Abbott next address. School committee for three years. A choice that moves our town. Round commissioner's our next measure.

And vote for Harvey as clerk. For it surely fits Fred's skill and worth. Then Charles Gray of South, and James. It's a severe with "Pomona" Stevens.

By grabbing honors in the third election. Clifford Eastman's, the ward. Which left Harry Jones in the lurch. For Fred Haley's always managed this.

Vote for Auditor, Frank. Who also is there for Frank March. March he shows a long experience along a salary.

This position he'll fill well. At his remarks, we laugh and yell. Especially, when he's playing to the gallery. Next, town clerk, would name him.

Jo Solari sought to run. But the moderator couldn't see him in the light. It's too bad that Joe is leaving. A fine office of his cleared away.

And returns a private citizen for night. Amongst the constables, we noted. A new member had been chosen. 'Twas P. Morrison, to serve as a boy.

And displays his badge to all. The misbehaving kids will surely stop. Tax collector, Andrews' named. But he should have been named.

For bidding quite so sharp against a M. I should hate to send $50 bills to all. At three and three-quarter mill. Deliver me from any job like this.

Next there come appropriations. Passing all our expectations. $11,000 for the Lovell road. By the way the money rises.

Roads won't be the only things. That at taxing time will have to carry load. Snow bills brought the question, Lou. We shall act, upon our plan.

For knowledge pro and con, the meeting. But all thought it best to wait. And decide it, by debate. At a future meeting after this adjourned.

Some thought each village street Should be tarred and gravel complete. But the voting told a very different tale. We raised a sum for street now tarred.

But all other ones are barred. Which will cause unfavorable citizens to be. Next, our fire corporation. When attending fires in the districts near to. Wait Smith championed this measure.

Giving fire members pleasure. I'm glad that we've done something to our dear us.

Now our school appropriations. Should have due considerations. Extra space for playgrounds needed badly. We hear glad exclamations.

When we learn of due donations. Of plots from both Frank Barker and Dan Bradley. Over seven thousand dollars. Will be needed by our scholars.

For village school, insuring proper housing. And I'm glad gymnastic training. And our music course is gaining.

And supported in a manner that is raising. Rev. Clark tried to explain. Our friend from Turkey Lane.

That our youngsters should have some religious training. Mr. Tull made rule. That it should not mix with school.

Thought the home was where such knowledge should be gained. Arguments of both were strong. Both were right and both were wrong.

Though records of both, at times were sure spell-binding. But I hope they won't be rough. When they're stealing Zady's stuff. And that arm in arm their way will soon be winding.

Just a word about the feed. Saved my life. Oh, yes, indeed. They're surely won my heart by way of "hummy."

I ate countless custard pies. Had not someone helped me rise. I been sitting there till now, I'll bet, by "hummy."

Well, I guess you've had enough Of this town meeting stuff. And blamed if I will write another line. But if next year you're around, You'll find me upon the ground, they may be repeated again in the near future.

Junior Files is visiting his aunt. Grace Beckford. Gladys Parker has returned to her work in Norway.

Richard Files and Carla Warren were home from their school in Norway, over the week-end.

V. H. Littlefield, spent the week-end in Auburn, where his uncle is very ill. Algie Grover has gone to Welchville to care for Mrs. Alty Grover, who is ill with measles.

Mrs. Lulu Kimball visited Ada Hill, Wednesday.
